'GOOP BOMBS' HIT JAPAN

WASHINGTON.—The inside story of how the army and navy are burning up Japan's main cities, block by block, may now be revealed at least in part.

The two greatest contributions to the burning of Japan are the B-29 and a new, still somewhat mysterious fire-bomb known as the "goop bomb." Just how the "goop bomb" got its name isn't known. However, it's the most terrible fire spreader in the world. Part of its secret is an oily mush developed by petroleum chemists. This makes the contents of the bombs stick in glue-like gobs to anything it hits, making it almost impossible for Japanese fire-fighters to scrape it loose.

However, what really made the bomb the most terrible in the world was experiments carried out by some of Henry Kaiser's West coast scientists. They found Kaiser had a surplus of fast burning, white-hot magnesium production on his hands, and they also knew one of the greatest difficulties in making magnesium is its high explosive content. So they experimented with mixing magnesium dust in the oil of the bomb.

This magnesium dust lights up in a searing blaze as soon as it comes in contact with air. Result is the hottest fire ever known.

Most important effect of the "goop bomb" is that no known fire-fighting equipment can douse its flames. Water only adds to the blaze; as do any of the other specialized fire-fighting chemicals. All the Japs do now against the "goop bomb" is to try to confine the area in which it burns, not put it out.

CONTINUED CENSORSHIP

With the European war over, everyone expected press censorship to ease up. In some respects, however, especially in the Pacific, it is getting tougher.

Not only are newspapers barred from even speculating regarding certain international phases of the Pacific war, but the navy for some weird reason hushed up the bombing of the airplane carrier Franklin from April 26, when she got to New York, to May 17, when the disaster finally was announced. There were obvious reasons for keeping the news quiet while the ship was en route through the Panama canal. But once it passed the canal and was safely tied up in New York, all danger was past, however, the navy still invoked censorship.

AMERICA'S NO. ONE HEEL

Former OPA Administrator Leon Henderson is a sad man these days. Every time he picks up the newspapers, he reads story after story telling how Washington has given some manufacturer permission to produce again.

Henderson recalls how he gained the reputation of being "America's No. 1 heel," by cutting down the American civilian consumption to almost zero.

"If I could only change all that," moans Henderson. "If the President would only give me a job for one week—just one short week—in which I could give the people back some of the things I took away from them. Then folks wouldn't think I'm such a bad guy after all."

DIPLOMATIC CHAFF

South Africa's prime minister Jan Christian Smuts seldom speaks but when he does, every one listens.

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's foreign minister, has been the most effective go-between in conciliating Russian-western differences.

Sen. Glenn Taylor of Idaho has used only five gallons of gas since arriving in Washington—an example which could be emulated by a lot of other bigwigs.

Secret service is on the trail of a counterfeiting ring which has circulated hundreds of thousands of spurious one dollar bills. . . . They all bear the same serial number, are considered one of the cleverest jobs recently pulled.

One reason General Eisenhower and his staff have been so upset about congressmen visiting the battle zones is that when the Germans counterattacked last December, the Nazis sent a powerful paratroop force to take the little town of Cernay. Had they landed one week earlier to the hour, they would have captured the entire house military affairs committee delegation then in France.

Wives of some conference delegates are having a field day buying clothes. . . . One woman marched into the hat section of a department store, grabbed up 40 chapeaux without even trying them all on.

The navy department has done a bang up job convincing delegates of America's military might. . . . The navy takes delegates on blimp rides, boat rides, and airplane tours of West coast navy installations showing them America's striking power first hand.

After the talk he passed around many of his prize winning photos and answered all questions authoritatively and freely.

C. P. Klassen was presented a lapel tab denoting eight years of 100 per cent attendance at Kiwanis.

Next week Ray Mathis will wield the gavel as chairman, and introduce Ernie Renzel, president of the city council of San Jose. Mr. Renzel will discuss "Post War Inter-City Planning for Santa Clara County."

Capt. Cramer who is a doctor in the army medical corps was injured some time ago in France by shrapnel in a shell explosion. Injuries were suffered to his right leg and left thumb but both are recovering very well although another operation on the thumb will be made in about a week and then will have two months off.

He is located at Dibble hospital where he is assisting during his own treatment, but comes home nights.

His many friends here congratulate him upon his successful recovery and welcome him home.

Campbell Short On Bond Quota

While Campbell is short only $5000.00 of the total quota of $161,000.00 in sales for the Seventh War Bond campaign, it is still short about $15,000.00 on its "E" bond quota.

Official closing date is June 30. All sales to July 7 are counted and it is hoped that between now and that date sufficient applications will be received to make up this difference. Purchases may be made at the post office or applications left at the office of G. E. Farley.

Lt. (jg) David E. Farley, who has spent 19 months in the Pacific areas, is home on a thirty-day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fish have returned from a delightful honeymoon at Yosemite park and are at their home on West Campbell avenue.

Dorothy Harnish Is On Duty In Washington, D. C.

Among the Women Reservists now on duty with the Navy in the Nation's Capital, releasing a man to fight at sea with the fleet, is Dorothy L. Harnish, seaman second class, daughter of Mrs. G. A. Robillard of Campbell.

Seaman Harnish reported aboard on May 15, 1945. She received her recruit training at U. S. Naval Training School, New York City.

She now lives in WAVE quarters, Washington, D. C., where living is comfortable, friendly and typically Navy. In her lively house she is free to participate in the many activities planned by the Recreation Officer and other members of ship's company at the quarters, or to visit the many places of interest around the capital. Social opportunities for servicewomen range from teas at the famous Embassies to dances and entertainment at the various Canteens and USO Clubs.

Mrs. Dinsmoor Rites Held Friday

Mrs. Bethel Dinsmoor, wife of T. D. Dinsmoor of Campbell, passed away Wednesday, June 20, at O'Connor hospital, at the age of 55. She was a native of St. Mary's, West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmoor came to Campbell about a year and a half ago to take over the management of the Ohlen Hatchery.

Services were held Friday from the Rutherford Funeral Home with interment in Santa Clara city cemetery; the Rev. James H. Strayer of San Jose, officiating.

Serving as pallbearers were F. J. Zavattero, F. Powers, Rex. Fuller, Fred Jones, John Rogers and Frank Furlong.

Footlighters Hold Annual Picnic

The Campbell Footlighters held their annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McDonnell at Alma on Sunday. There were about 45 in attendance, including members and their guests.

After a very fine pot luck dinner out of doors, the members enjoyed an afternoon and evening of horseshoes, pinocle, bridge and reminiscing. The group gathered 'round the McDonnell's player piano and gave forth with some lusty and melodious singing.

Champions in their respective fields were Jim Dent at horseshoes; the E. E. Lanphears at bridge; Manuel Viera at singing; and Lee Murdock at pinocle. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Jensen of Palo Alto and Sgt. and Mrs. Paul Miller of the Salinas Army Air Base.

It is hoped that as soon as some of the leading men and directors of the organization return from Uncle Sam's service, that the same high grade plays which have been so successfully presented during the last five years, may be continued.

Lt. Robson Is Awarded Wreath

With the Fifteenth United States Army in Germany—First Lieutenant Philip E. Robson of Campbell, was honored recently when his organization, the 331st Medical Battalion of the 106th (Lion) Division, now part of Lt. General Leonard T. Gerow's Fifteenth U. S. Army, won the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque together with a citation for "superior performance of duty in the accomplishment of exceptionally difficult tasks during the period from Dec. 12, 1944 to Feb. 12, 1945." The award of this plaque entitles each member of the unit to wear a laurel wreath on his right sleeve.

The officers and enlisted men of the 331st combined courage, untiring devotion to duty, and professional and technical skill of the highest order during the furious fighting in the Ardennes Forest in December. The Division held grimly against the full force of Von Rundstedt's panzer smash into the Bulge, and the medics supported the front line riflemen in a manner which fully lived up to the motto of the medical department—Service Above Self.

The medical stations were cut off from the rear, and for four days the clearing station acted as a field hospital. Every man who could be spared from the collecting companies went forward to the battlefields to help in on-the-spot treatment of the wounded.

Lt. Robson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Robson, and works as an administrative officer in the 331st Medical Battalion. In addition to his Laurel Wreath, he wears the European-African-Middle Eastern Theater Ribbon with Battle Participation Stars for the Battles of Germany and Northern France.

Jimmy Glynn Will Direct Activities Of Youth Center

The Youth Center activities have been reorganized and hereafter the teen-agers will conduct the affairs of the center with James C. (Jimmy) Glynn, as director.

At a recent meeting an organizing committee of students headed by Larry Lewis as chairman was instituted. Serving with Lewis are Tom Miranda, Lowell Grattan and Jerry Finch, all Campbell Union High school students.

With Glynn's help, Herbert Shadle, chairman of the adult executives of the Youth Council, stated that the Center will change from the system in operation for the past two years which was teen-age recreation planned by adults. It will be a year-round project conducted by the youth themselves.

The first major proposition is to find new quarters as the Boy Scout hall has to be moved and being used by the Scouts is not available at all times. Also larger rooms are needed for dancing, lounging and reading space.

The selection of Jimmy Glynn as director should prove very satisfactory as he has always been popular with young people through his cartoons, chalk talks and active participation in youth activities.

As an experienced boatman and member of the South Bay Yacht club, he was sent on active sea duty in the Pacific almost immediately after enlisting in 1941. Starting as a coxswain on a mine sweeper he was a boatswain's mate 1/c in the supply service last April when he was honorably discharged at the age of 42. He had then just passed an examination for chief petty officer.

Adult executive officers in addition to Shadle are Charles Jones, treasurer; and LBen Howard, secretary.

A fund has been established by community contributions through adult organizations to launch the new program in which all Campbell teen-agers will be invited to join.

Another meeting of the youth and adult committees was held last night at the Livingston home on Harrison.

The trustees of the Campbell Union High school and Principal James W. Dent have granted permission to use the school's agricultural building for a club room.

A mass meeting for the teen-agers of the high school district will be held this Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Scout hall to form a club and elect officers.

The Happy Hour Club held their last meeting of the season recently at the home of Mrs. Lela Strong on North Second street. A dainty luncheon was served, followed by games and conversation.

Commander Frank R. Anderson is reported back in California after participation in the invasion of Okinawa, where he was wounded in the leg by shrapnel. Before his transfer here for treatment, he was hospitalized for a short time at the general hospital on Guam.

FOURTH OF JULY—1945

On the Fourth of July, our birthday as a free people, we have been accustomed to patriotic oratory, to the blare of bands and the tramp of marching feet as the veterans of past wars paraded by. We have felt a glow of pride and a sense of our great inheritance as the moving words of our Declaration of Independence were read to us. And we have gone to our homes when the celebration was over with a new born understanding of the great gift that our forefathers and the brave men who followed them, gave us—when they gave us America and American liberty.

That was in normal times, in peace times, with our loved ones gathered around us for the family and national holiday—with the sun shining brightly, with everything well with our world, and with fireworks scheduled in the park during the evening. We were patriotic, yes, in our easy-going fashion. We were even grateful, some of us, to those who had died to make it possible—and maybe even humble as we counted how much we owed them. But to many of us, the Fourth of July was just a holiday from work—a time to go fishing or hunting, a time to make merry.

This year it is different—as different as blood from wine. We will still do many of the same things. We will still stand with bared heads as the Flag goes by, but we will see the red in The Red, White and Blue this year, and we will not think of our independence as something which some ancient forefathers granted us, but as a precious, vital, living thing which our own sons and brothers are risking their lives to preserve for us.

On July 4, 1945, we know the price of liberty. We know that the Declaration of Independence is an immortal document only because mortal men—the men of this community and of all the cities and towns of America—are willing to die to preserve it.

MIGHTY SEVENTH WAR LOAN

Only a few days remain before the close of the "Mighty Seventh" War Loan.

And in the sale of "E" bonds Northern California is still far short of its quota.

The drive began on an enthusiastic, patriotic theme—"Let's finish the job."

We were resolved to sell every dollar of the quota assigned to us so that we might do our part in supplying the ammunition and supplies needed to bring the war against the Japs to a quick and victorious end. We agreed that our fighting men on battlefronts in the Pacific were doing their part and far more at the risk of life and limb. We resolved to do our share here on the home front. It was not a big share either, merely lending money to our government at good interest.

But somehow our efforts have bogged down.

Day after day press reports from the far Pacific tell of glorious achievements by our fighting men—new victories, new advances—all of them at terrific, bloody cost.

Shall we have our heroes know that we on the homefront cannot be depended on to do our part? They will have to know—and we will have to face their knowing—unless we step up our efforts at once and in a mighty shove buy bonds fast and in far greater size so as to bring Northern California over the top.

ELBOW DAY

Some communities with sizable Negro populations already are familiar with "Bump Day," "Elbow Day," "Disappointment Day" and others.

On the designated day, Negroes are asked by unthinking leaders who want to call attention to their unsatisfactory position in the community, to "bump" or "elbow" white folk on the sidewalks, or to "disap-

Commenting on the unhappy racial involvement in this situation as well as that of the returning Japanese, Harry Dutton of the Visalia Times Delta remarks: "It is unfortunate that the hearts and minds and ideals of men are not distinguishable by color."

FIDO FIGHTS FOG

The secret of another British invention has just been disclosed. It is known as "Operation FIDO" which clears fogs from airfield runways. "FIDO," which stands for "Fog Investigation Dispersal Operations," has aided more than 2,500 Allied aircraft to land safely, often in dense fog, and has enabled RAF squadrons to take off from an airfield with only a hundred yards of visibility. As many as 91 USAAF aircraft have been known to land at one RAF FIDO-equipped field in one day. "Operation FIDO" was based on the theory that if the temperature of the atmosphere could be raised 7 degrees Fahrenheit, the fog disappeared. The necessary heat was provided by a continuous line of petroleum burners installed parallel to and at some distance from each side of the runway. By using this invention, under normal conditions, fog can be cleared in 10 minutes; on occasions it has been cleared in 6 minutes.

COMMON SENSE

One of the most sensible outlines for a postwar policy to protect the United States from the menace of inflation has been presented by Harley L. Lutz, Professor of Public Finance of Princeton University. He says that a program that could do most to maintain confidence in the stability of purchasing power should embrace the following:

"1. A moderate budget financed on a cash basis. This would stop credit inflation at its source.

"2. Taxation at a level sufficient to cover the budget and to provide for some debt retirement. No country ever had a wild commodity price inflation while its budget was in balance and its debt was being reduced.

"3. Repeal of all legislation under which there can be any tinkering with the currency, such as further devaluation of the dollar, the issue of greenbacks, the dilution of bank reserves, and other inflationary devices.

"4. A green light to private enterprise to proceed with civilian production as promptly after the termination of war contracts as reconversion will permit. The early prospect of a reasonably adequate supply of goods will go far to prevent crowding and jostling to get them.

"A definite assurance that their liquid savings will not be evaporated by foolish public spending, borrowing, and further credit inflation will make the people much more disposed to walk than run to the exit."

To be sure you are right you must go ahead—and see if you are.

ENJOY THE FIFTH, TOO!

If you're one of those persons who can take the Fourth of July off without interfering with war production, here are a few reminders how you can better enjoy the day—and the fifth of July, too.

If you drive, remember that the speed limit is 35 miles per hour and stick to it. If you swim, don't take chances. Use a little common sense in whatever you do and you'll be happier and live longer.

Arnold, Jeanette Nelson, Gertrude Wood, with Amaro Rose, Clarence A. Paschote, Samuel G. Rice and Bob Mattush from the Drew Canning company.

The chairman of the blood donor service, Mrs. Kenneth S. Conn, is urgently requesting that if any persons are obliged to break an appointment that they notify the registrars.

Freed: Buys Bonds

U. S. Signal Corps Photo
PHILIPPINE SCOUT—When Capt. John E. Smith, Philippine scout, received his back pay and allowances after three years' internment in a Japanese prison camp, he bought War Bonds. The captain was wounded on Bataan and lost 55 pounds in weight during his imprisonment. At the present time he is making a War Bond tour, and buys War Bonds at each meeting. "The civilian," he declared, "is taking a poke at Hirohito each time he buys a War Bond." Smith hails from Houston, Texas.

Tom Martinez, 40, a pedestrian, was struck by a car driven by Sgt. Charles Weeks, 24, of Campbell late Sunday night, at the San Pedro St. Augustine street intersection. Martinez, a resident of San Jose was taken to the county hospital suffering from shock and possible internal injuries. Police stated that Weeks was not held.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murdock attended the Ice Follies in San Francisco Wednesday evening.

Notes of a Newspaperman:

Telegram: "Poetic Justice. The dramatic reversal of the Reichstag trial. Goering prosecuted Georgi Dimitroff in the frame-up blaming Dimitroff for starting the Reichstag fire. And today Dimitroff is prosecuting Meyer Goering! Isn't it wonderful?" — Ralph Berendt, New York City.

A Russian delegate to the Security Conference was trying to throw some light on the muddled situation in China (for a perplexed journalist) before Chiang "technically" resigned his premiership.

"But why," asked the writer, "is unity so hard to establish in China, if both the Chungking Gov't and Communist guerrilla forces want to destroy the Japanese?"

"Perhaps it is best explained by saying that it is an old custom for Chiang to fight the Communists," replied the delegate. "And he has such love for ancient institutions that he will not look at the new moon, out of respect for the old one."

British soldiers who witnessed the capture of Lord Haw Haw gave him the English equivalent of the Bronx cheer. One yelled derisively: "Boys, take a look at Lord Hee-Haw, the man who brayed like a donkey!" Another Tommy (in the group standing at ease) commented: "That reminds me of the time all the donkey-cart drivers in Britain went on strike. They sent a delegation to 10 Downing street, and the man who was spokesman told Winnie: 'We're going to stay off the job until you do something about that fellow in Berlin, named Lord Haw Haw. Our donkeys have been listening to his broadcasts, and now every jackass thinks he can be a radio commentator!'"

According to the best-informed gossip, Joe Davies' flying trip to see Churchill was for the purpose of soft-pedaling the anti-Soviet hysteria which has been emanating from the London-Washington pipeline in recent weeks. Capitol politicians have dug deep into "the guess-what-for" basket. In a discussion between two Administration Senators, one remarked: "I doubt if Davies will be as successful with Churchill as he has been with 'Uncle Joe.'"

"Don't worry," counseled the other. "Davies is a wise and honest man. Trouble with most of our diplomats is that we appoint them to avert situations which would never occur if they weren't our diplomats in the first place."

When about to bury Himmler, it's said that a British soldier assigned to the job speculated in ironic vein: "Don't you think, sergeant, that we ought to pay some touching tribute to the deceased?"

"Yes, indeed," mused the top-kick. "I will now say a few words," and he began: "Dear Lord, we are now delivering up to you—" at which point he was stopped by one of the Tommies, who spat and said: "Let's get 'im underground, 'e smells awful!"

To which the sergeant intoned: "What do you expect from a skunk—perfume?"

The Love Letters of a Columnist:

In a broadcast from Tokyo, the other day (heard by the FCC) the Mikadomei News Agency heaped praises on Joe Stalin for his "powerful leadership based on Sovietism," which "finally overcame a danger of defeat far greater than the one facing the Japanese at present."

When the item was carried in the Russian press, it was the cause for some ironic comment by the down-to-earth Muscovites. One gray-bearded was overheard remarking: "When the fox begins to praise the rooster, and tells him he is a fine bird, the rooster had better be ready to fly for his life."

Out of a long, painful experience, Abraham Lincoln wrote five sentences which all of us would do well to study: "If I tried to read, much less answer, all the criticisms made of me and all the attacks leveled against me, this office would have to be closed for all other business. I do the best I know how, the very best I can. I mean to keep on doing this, down to the very end. If the end brings me out all wrong, then 10 angels swearing I had been right would make no difference. If the end brings me out all right, then what is said against me now will not amount to anything."

It's the latest silly going around. A subway strap-hanger kept staring long and affectionately at a man who was sitting down. The fellow who was being stared at became uncomfortable under the other's stare. Finally, the strap-hanger said: "You must excuse my looking at you so hard, but if it weren't for the moustache you would be exactly like my wife."

The man sitting down said: "I haven't got a moustache."

The strap-hanger answered: "No, but my wife has."

Campbell Man Gets Commission in France

With U.S. Forces in France

Noel Adolph Voge, son of Mrs. Lillian Voge of Campbell, received a commission as second lieutenant in the Army of the United States on May 8, 1945 in France.

Lt. Voge entered the Army as an enlisted man on Nov. 12, 1942, and attended the Army Specialized Training School at Stanford University. He was also a student in the Army Air Force Training School at Chanute Field, Ill.

He attended San Jose State college, studying history and English and also the University of California, Berkeley, where he graduated with an AB degree. He also studied at the University of Freiburg in Germany and the University of Zagreb in Yugoslavia.

Lt. Voge travelled extensively in Sweden, Germany, and Yugoslavia. Prior to his entry in the armed forces he was a consular clerk, extending information to visa applicants and was also an interpreter for commissioner of immigration. His wife, Mrs. Marietta Voge lives in Campbell.

Norman Malone Is Advanced

Aboard a Cruiser in the Pacific—Norman D. Malone, 21, of Campbell, has advanced to Coxswain, aboard this ship. He wears the purple heart and a gold star in lieu of a second award for wounds suffered at Saipan and the battle for Leyte Gulf.

He also participated in the invasion of Sicily, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Malone, 180 Kennedy avenue. He attended Campbell Union High school and before entering the Navy in November, 1942, he was employed by Hendy's iron works.

"Carmen Jones" in San Jose July 29

"Carmen Jones," probably the most colossal show to reach the Pacific Coast, or even to be seen on Broadway, in twenty or more years, will have a matinee and evening performance in San Jose under the Denny-Watrous management on Sunday, July 29. This Billy Rose spectacular production tops the New York Aquacade and the other super efforts of the great American showman.

The great demand for seats has led to two performances in San Jose of the widely-heralded "Carmen Jones."

"Ten Little Indians" reaches San Jose on August 5.

Veterans Return To California

The greatest aerial troop movement in history is bringing California veterans back from their overseas stations in record time.

Under the Army's recently disclosed "Green Project" to return 50,000 men a month by air, most of the returnees land at Miami, Florida Air Transport Command's Army Air Field, now becoming the world's greatest and busiest air terminal, where a huge transport from Europe, Africa, Asia or South America lands every 45 minutes of a 24-hour day.

From here the Californians are sent by train to Camp Blanding, Fla., from which they are routed to separation centers nearest their respective homes. At the separation centers they are granted furloughs home, after which they return for either reassignment or separation from the service.

Among the Californians just landed here from Italy and the European theater of operations is Master Sgt. Edward A. Marshall, 25, husband of Mrs. Eva Marshall of Route 2, Campbell.

MY LOVE FOR YOU

By Marjorie L. Knapp
Neice of Mable C. Knappen

The autumn rains are falling,
And frost is in the air,
The skies grow more appalling;
Nor herald morrows fair.

September morn's upon us all,
From summer unto snow,
And soon the leaves all changed
will fall,
And winter winds will blow.

I hearken to the wild geese call
As all things fade or fly;
But never shall there be a fall
When love's old song will die!

Regarding Margarine and Mayonnaise

Owing to very inadequate supply and irregular deliveries of these commodities, we feel that it will be fairer to our customers to put them on sale at a stated time instead of selling immediately on arrival as we have been doing. This is in line with our policy in selling other scarce items.

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE, we will sell, when available, these items either Tuesday or Thursday, starting at 8:00 a. m. This means that these items will be on sale one morning about every third week, and also, the present supply will only serve about 10 to 15 per cent of our customers. Please do not ask us to save scarce items. The purchaser will have to be on hand when the item is on sale to secure any. When we know definitely ahead of time we will be glad to tell you whether we will have these items on sale or not.

We realize that this is not fair to all, but we do feel that this policy is the fairest to the most people and the best plan we have been able to work out. We are sorry there isn't enough to go around.

Cigarettes will be sold Thursday A. M. until further notice.

Can ALL you can at home!

From now on through the bountiful fruit and berry season is a good time to practice the thrifty old Yankee custom of putting up food for the winter months. Can all you can, at home.

Make the most of your sugar allotment and put up jams and jellies and preserves. Some berries can be put up in natural juices without sugar. Or you can stretch your sugar allowance by the use of honey for sweetening.

If you plan to put up vegetables, remember the only safe canning method is with a pressure cooker. Do not use the boiling water bath methods for any vegetables, except tomatoes. When you can, do it right. Buy fresh, firm fruits and berries. Cook them right and seal them tight!
